INTRODUCTION

Mountain Rescue in Scotland is coordinated by Police Scotland. Police Scotland receive the initial callout through the 999 system and, if appropriate, contact the local Mountain Rescue Team (MRT). Each MRT is an independent organisation who submit their reports to the Statistician of Scottish Mountain Rescue (SMR), the representative body for the majority of MRTs in Scotland.

There are 28 voluntary civilian Mountain Rescue Teams in Scotland and 3 Police Teams, of which 25 civilian teams and the three Police Teams are members of Scottish Mountain Rescue. This report is compiled from information received from the 25 civilian and 3 Police Scotland teams that are members of Scottish Mountain Rescue in 2022. These teams are listed to the right.

This annual report covers the calendar year from January 1st to December 31st 2022.

Important Note: This report does not include incidents from non-member teams, except where SMR teams have assisted these teams.

This complicates direct comparison of numbers with those from previous years. (Membership has been consistent since 2016 with one team rejoining in 2021)

Comparison of key figures with those from previous years are provided where this is considered helpful.

OVERVIEW:

INCIDENTS, CALL-OUTS AND HOURS

Number of incidents

The total number of independent incidents in 2022 was 636.

Of these, 330 (52%) were related to mountaineering (this includes hillwalking, scrambling, rock climbing, winter climbing, and MRT activity).

The total number of separate team activations or “call-outs” was 843, or 906 including “continuations” (linked call-outs on different days).

This is an average of 2.5 per day, including continuations. At least one team was called out on 281 days this year, and on the busiest day of Sunday 26TH June 2022 there were 15 activations of teams.

Hours

Mountain Rescue team members gave up 29,804 hours of their time during call-outs.

That’s the equivalent of one person working 40 hour weeks every year for seven years and four months... Voluntarily!

People helped

During 2022, 740 people were assisted.

3 incidents involved the rescue of dogs, and 2 incidents the rescue of sheep.

There were 21 fatalities, 11 of which occurred in mountaineering incidents.

Trends over time

As noted in last year's statistics report, 2021 was the busiest year on record in terms of both callout count and hours spent by teams. While the headline figures for 2022 are slightly lower overall, 2022 saw the highest number of callouts of civilian teams on record, and the number of hours spent by civilian teams was only slightly lower than 2021.

These figures sit within an overall trend of increasing callout numbers and total number of hours spent over recent years.

Total number of hours spent by SMR civilian rescue teams.

MOUNTAINEERING INCIDENTS

All incidents involving Scottish Mountain Rescue Teams are reported in two broad categories, Mountaineering and Non-Mountaineering.

Since 2010, this classification is based on the activity being undertaken. "Mountaineering" includes Climbing or Hillwalking in both Summer and Winter. It also includes personnel on Mountain Rescue missions.

In 2022 there were 330 "mountaineering" incidents, in which 429 people were assisted.

Hillwalking (Summer)	227	69
Hillwalking (Winter)	92	28

TIMING OF INCIDENTS

The busiest period for teams is generally during the summer months. Both mountaineering and non-mountaineering incidents (see later section) increase during the summer. The busiest day of the week for teams from mountaineering incidents tends to be a Saturday or Sunday.

NON-MOUNTAINEERING INCIDENTS

Mountain Rescue Teams grew locally as a result of a need in their community. Over time, the needs of the community change, and with it the capabilities of the MRTs to respond to these needs. Throughout the period, teams continued to respond to a wide variety of calls for help and their activity is recorded in this section.

Teams were engaged in 306 incidents supporting the community. More than one activity can be recorded against an incident.

Activity

The activity or activities leading to these incidents was recorded in 242 cases.
